

Accretions and Augmentations

by Paul Turner © July 18, 2004

Look backward and find accretions,
Above neck and nape--
The permanent shingle that renews your wave,
That restores your crown and the glory.

Look below and know that you're an epoch early,
Though you look by the web for encouragement.
The permanent dangle reminds you: Dick,
All is not rewritten--that's all, that's all.
